INTRODUCTION

- Purpose of the Manual

This Manual has been developed as a supplement to the bylaws of the Airborne Public Safety Association, Inc. and is intended to serve as an educational and management tool for the officers, board members and staff of the Association. It should be considered as a fluid document, which is adaptable to the changing needs and growth of the Association.

The roles and relationships described in the Manual have been developed based upon a “Balanced Model” of association management. Its intention is to introduce checks and balances between the authority of elected volunteers and paid staff members without unnecessarily inhibiting either in the performance of their respective duties.

- Management Approach

In defining this balance, the Board of Directors relies upon resource documents and specialists in the field of association management to define a management philosophy and framework to guide the activities of volunteers and staff. That framework is summarized as follows:

Governing Body

The Board of Directors is the governing body of the Association and, as such, is the final authority on all matters pertaining to the management of the Association. The Board sets policy for the Association and relies upon elected officers, staff and committees to implement or to develop plans to implement those policies. The Board is ultimately accountable to the membership of the Association.

Chief Executive Function

The Executive Committee comprising the officers of the Association, with the President as its chair, functions to make executive decisions, interpret Board policy, develop interim policies and to direct the business affairs of the Association between regular or special Board meetings to resolve issues and matters requiring immediate resolution. The Executive Committee is accountable to the Board of Directors for its actions and decisions.

Chief Executive Officer

The Executive Director functions as the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of the Association. The CEO has the authority to manage the business affairs of the Association, to carry out established policy and to implement official directives of the Board and the Executive Committee, exercising executive prerogatives to act in the best interest of the Association.

The Executive Director/CEO always functions within a policy framework characterized by approved business plans, budgets and official acts of the Board and the Executive Committee. The Executive Director is directly accountable to and serves at the pleasure of the Board of Directors.

Treasurer

The Treasurer functions as the Financial Officer and is responsible to oversee the fiscal affairs of the Association. The Treasurer reviews the financial transactions of the Association, and generally advises the officers, directors and membership on fiscal policy for the Association.

Support Staff

Paid staff of the Association will function in accordance with the approved job descriptions for their positions and the directives of the CEO. They are accountable to and serve at the pleasure of the Executive Director/CEO. Those persons who have entered into a personal services contract are answerable directly to the Executive Director/CEO with the exception the Association's designated Legal Counsel who shall be accountable to the Board of Directors.

Committees and Committee Chairs

Committees, both standing and ad hoc, function in accordance with their charters or charge as may be defined by the bylaws, the Board, or the Executive Committee. They represent the vehicle through which the principles of our profession are integrated into the activities of the Association.

Committee members function under the direction of their Chair and the Chair is accountable to the Board through the President for the accomplishment of the Committee's mission.

Only a committee comprised of Board members may exercise the power of the Board on any project assigned to their committee by the Board.

This framework is designed to establish a balance and to clearly define roles among the various members of the Airborne Public Safety Association team. As we work together for the common goals of our Association, learning will take place and roles may change. As they do, this Manual should be modified or amended to reflect those changes.

• Organization of the Manual

This Manual is organized by functional topic for convenience as a reference document. Consequently, some policies are repeated in more than one section. This repetition is intentional to ensure that the document clearly communicates official policy and roles within each functional description.

 - 4) Elections shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws.

3.10 Travel Policy and Related Expense Reimbursement

The APSA Board of Directors and Executive Director/CEO have widespread responsibilities for the direction and control of all aspects of the Association. In addition, each board member is required to represent the APSA in a variety of business and social events. Their active participation is necessary and proper, and it is expected that reasonable costs will be incurred to carry out their responsibilities.

- a) General Policy
 - 1) APSA covers the cost of travel and on-site expenses for employees, contractors, officers and members of the board of directors, and some others not in the direct employ of the Association, when traveling on official APSA business, under the conditions outlined below. The Association expects that travelers exercise good judgment in making arrangements that strike a balance between the expenses incurred and the convenience of the person traveling. The policy applies to expenses charged to all funds administered by the Association, whether these are generated by dues, fees for services and products, or grants.

- 2) All unbudgeted travel must be approved, in advance, by the CEO with written justification from the traveler for the travel requirement. Notification of approved unbudgeted travel by the Executive Committee must be provided to the Executive Director/CEO. Prior written approval shall not be applicable for scheduled annual or regional conferences or other budgeted and approved events.
- 3) Travel and per diem expenses shall be reimbursed for persons traveling on official APSA business and shall be in accordance with General Services Administration (GSA) Meals & Incidental Expenses (M&IE) schedule.
- 4) APSA will not reimburse or pay for family or guest expenses, entertainment or recreational activities, alcoholic beverages, hotel rooms for added nights, laundry and valet services, flight and car insurance, or credit card fees. The Executive Director/CEO may authorize reimbursement for excluded items in unusual circumstances.

b) Transportation

- 1) Transportation authorized for APSA business travel includes automobile, rail, airlines, buses, taxicabs, and other usual means of conveyance. All travel is to be by the most economical mode of transportation consistent with reasonable convenience.
- 2) Air travel shall be booked through the Association's designated travel agency in order to take advantage of previously arranged discounts and points earned from use of the Association's credit card. In addition, travel should be booked at least twenty-one (21) days in advance. Although the Association will make every effort to find reasonable direct routes to destinations, connections and non-nonstop flights may be used if they are not unreasonable in time loss. Airline preference will not be considered to gain frequent flyer mileage. Travelers who want to be selective in their airlines will be responsible for the cost differential. Contact the Executive Director/CEO or Operations Manager to obtain further information about the travel agency. If an APSA traveler locates a commercial carrier for air travel at a cost less than that found by the preferred APSA travel service or with a better flight schedule at the same cost, then the traveler may seek approval from the Executive Director to book a flight directly with a commercial carrier.

- a. Air and rail travel is to be coach or economy class. Overnight parking is to be in an economy (non-hourly or daily) facility. When circumstances dictate, advance approval for overnight use of daily facilities may be sought from the Executive Director/CEO.
- b. Automobile travel when a traveler drives his or her own car, the allowance is at the current federal reimbursement rate per mile, plus cost of tolls and parking. The reimbursed cost for mileage cannot exceed what would have been the cost for a coach or economy class 21-day advance airfare for that trip. Proof of airfare price must be submitted with travelers' reimbursement request.
- c. The use of rental cars while traveling on Association business is not usually necessary and consequently discouraged. In an instance where a rental car is absolutely necessary and prior approval has been obtained from the Executive Director/CEO, a vehicle may be obtained at the lowest possible cost and for the shortest period of time. When you must rent a vehicle, collision and personal injury insurance will be accepted.
- d. Taxicabs may be used in cases where less expensive means of public transportation are unavailable or demonstrably less convenient. When transportation to and from airports by airport limousine or shuttle service is available, they should be used in lieu of a taxi.

c) Hotel Accommodations

When traveling to an overnight APSA event on APSA business, notify the Meeting Planner of the dates of your travel and your sleeping room reservations will be made by her/him. When traveling on APSA business to an overnight event sponsored by another organization, notify the Executive Director/CEO or his designee of the dates of your travel and your sleeping room reservations will be made by her/him. At all times, efforts should be made to secure government rates for government employees.

e) Other Expenses

The cost of other expenses related to APSA travel will be borne by the Association where a business necessity justifies such expenditure. Other expenses include items such as parking (receipt required), non-meal tips (other than those included in the GSA schedule), and event registration fees (receipt required).

f) Tipping

Appropriate tips are an allowable expense. The following guides to generally accepted practice should be followed:

- 1) Waiters - generally 15 - 20% of meal cost (included in GSA M&IE).
- 2) Taxi Drivers - about 15% of taxi fares.
- 3) Bellboys - usually $1.00 per bag (included in GSA M&IE).
- 4) Valet Parking - generally $1.00.
- 5) Housekeeping – generally $2.00/night (included in GSA M&IE).

g) Telecommunications

Reimbursement of these services is appropriate when necessary for the proper conduct of APSA business, as are calls home to inform the traveler's family or workplace of changes in travel plans. Further, the Association will reimburse for one personal phone call each day. Whenever possible, advantage should be taken of the reduced rates available at certain times and conditions. Phone calls made from hotel room telephones should be avoided.

h) Entertainment

When circumstances merit, the President or Executive Director/CEO may charge appropriate expenses for professional hospitality. The names of those entertained, and the date, time, and location should be included in the travel expense report.

i) Travel Expense Report

- 1) Each traveler shall complete an APSA Travel Expense Reimbursement Form.
 - a. Board Members & Executive Director – Completed forms are to be submitted to the Executive Director/CEO (with receipts attached) within thirty (30) days of when expenses were incurred. A copy of the completed expense form shall be submitted to the Executive Director/CEO with a copy to the Treasurer for payment approval.

- b. Staff / Contractors – Completed forms are to be submitted to the Executive Director/CEO (with receipts attached, as required) within thirty (30) days of when expenses were incurred. A copy of the completed expense form shall be submitted to the Treasurer for review.
- 2) Upon approval of the CEO, reimbursements will be made. Payment will not be authorized without the support of required receipts. Every effort will be made to promptly reimburse approved vouchers, but in no event will such reimbursements exceed 15 working days.
- j) After Action Report

With the exception of travel to APSA events, board members, the Training Program Manager, and the Safety Program Manager must complete an After Action Report (interoffice memo to the Executive Director/CEO) within thirty (30) days of completion of travel assignment. The report shall give detailed information on the benefits resulting from the authorized APSA travel. The After Action Report can be a collective summary of all participating in the authorized travel. One copy will be sent to the Treasurer to be attached to the travel request and the travel voucher for future audits.

3.11 Non-Travel Related Expense Reimbursement

This section describes the non-travel expense reimbursement procedures for officers, directors, members and staff.

- a) Officers, Board and Committees
 - 1) Budgeted expenses require no prior approval, but must be submitted with receipts for approval and payment as outlined in subparagraph 2) below.
 - 2) Requests for reimbursement are to be submitted to the Executive Director/CEO on an approved expense form (with receipts attached) for processing within thirty (30) days of when they were incurred. A copy of the completed expense form shall be submitted to the Treasurer for payment approval.
- b) Staff/Contractor

Requests for reimbursement for staff/contractor expenses are to be submitted on an approved expense form with attached receipts to the Executive Director/CEO for processing consistent with the annual budget. In addition, the Executive Director/CEO shall prepare an estimate of staff expenses and submit annually as a part of the Association budget to the Budget Management Committee.

3.12 Role of the President

The President's role is described in the bylaws. In making appointments within his authority, the President is encouraged to take into consideration: affirmative action, geography, government and private sectors, member activity and responsibility, position and size of member organization (of person's employment) so that those appointments reflect the diversity of the Association's membership. The President/Executive Committee shall be responsible to conduct a performance evaluation on the Executive Director/CEO and report his findings to the Board and to the Executive Director/CEO in writing. The instrument used to evaluate the Executive Director/CEO shall provide space for signature of both the President and Executive Director/CEO, which will serve to show that the appraisal was delivered and received. Signature of the Executive Director does not constitute agreement with the appraisal.

3.13 Role of the Executive Committee

The Executive Committee shall govern the Association whenever the Board of Directors is not in session.

3.14 Conflict of Interest

Officers, board members, staff and committee members are prohibited from participating in any business or other activity, personally or professionally which would result in a conflict of interest, financial or otherwise. All officers, Directors, staff and contractors shall annually complete the required Conflicts of Interest form.

3.15 Code of Ethics

The purpose of this section is to outline a code of ethics to govern the officers, board members, staff and committee members.

The officers, board, staff and committee members must abide by the APSA Code of Ethics. The code is outlined as follows:

- a) Must abide by the Articles of Incorporation, Bylaws, Resolutions and Policies and Procedures of the Association.
- b) Must declare a personal and financial interest in matters before the Board;
- c) Must declare nepotism and family interest;
- d) Must not engage in discriminatory action based on race, sex, creed, or national origin;
- e) Must not use their position for personal gain;

- f) Must act in a manner that brings credit and honor upon the Association.

3.16 Outside Event Attendance

Attendance at outside conferences, seminars, and events for which APSA will reimburse expenses shall be offered to APSA Board members in the following order:

- a) President, or his designee*
- b) Officers of the Corporation
- c) Region Director within whose region the event is scheduled
- d) Other Region Director as directed by the Executive Director/CEO
- e) Other APSA representative as directed by the Executive Director/CEO

At conferences, seminars, and events where the APSA funds multiple representatives, consideration will be given to Board members who are also members of the hosting entity.

15.0 ROBERT'S RULES OF ORDER

15.1 Importance of Parliamentary Procedure

Parliamentary procedure is based upon several democratic principles. The first one is that debate in a society must be fair to all concerned. The right to debate must also be free to those so entitled. Another parliamentary principle guarantees to the majority the right to decide at the same time, the minority is guaranteed the protection afforded by parliamentary law. The majority, according to democratic principles, is given the opportunity to rule, but they must rule fairly and justly. When this is done, the minority group will respect the manner in which decisions are made even though they may disagree with the decision. Even if the minority disagrees with the decision, parliamentary law dictates that they must abide by the decision once the vote has been taken.

15.2 The Primary Purpose Of Parliamentary Procedure

These democratic principles give purpose to parliamentary procedure. That primary purpose is to assist groups to achieve their objectives. Parliamentary law may be thought of as a code of ethics to be followed by individuals in a group as they conduct business. Following such a code of ethics permits a group to conduct their business in the most effective and efficient manner. Parliamentary procedure, then, is for the purpose of enhancing a democratic way of arriving at group decisions.

15.3 Fundamental Parliamentary Practices

a). Introducing Business. The most common way of bringing an item of business before the Association is by a main motion. The purpose of a main motion, then, is to present an item of business for consideration and action by the Association.

b) Steps in Presenting a Motion.

1. Rising and Addressing the President: "Mr. President." Other appropriate titles, depending upon the circumstances are "Mr. Chairman" if a regular chairman or someone other than the President is presiding.

In large groups, a member should, after addressing the presiding officer, give his name and the name of his department or company, "Mr. President. Bill Jones from XYZ Police Department."

A member must wait until the floor has been yielded before he rises to request recognition. If he rises before the floor has been yielded, or if he is standing at the time, he is not entitled to be recognized provided someone else rises afterwards and addresses the chair.

It is out of order to be standing when another member has the floor, except to interrupt a speaker when such is permitted under parliamentary rules. Consequently, if one is standing when the floor is yielded, he cannot claim he rose first since he did not rise after the floor was yielded.

2. Recognition by the President: "Bill." - If a member is entitled to the floor, the President recognizes him by calling his name or by calling his official title, such as "Mr. Treasurer."

In small assemblies, the President may merely bow or nod in recognizing a member.

3. Making the Motion: "I move that..." - This is the only correct terminology to use in offering a proposal. Brief explanatory remarks should precede the offering of a proposal. These may help to explain the importance or reason for offering the proposal. Such remarks should not be in the form of a discussion on the motion since this would be out of order at this point.

4. Seconding the Motion: "Mr. President, I second the motion." - A motion is seconded without obtaining recognition or rising. If a motion, which requires a second does not receive one, it dies for lack of a second. If a second is not offered immediately, the president may ask if there is a second.

5. Statement of the Question: "It is moved and seconded that..." - If the question is debatable, the President states, "The question is now open for discussion or debate." or "Are there any remarks?"

It is proper, but not necessarily essential, for the President to state whether the motion is debatable, amendable, and the vote required. On motions which are undebatable, unamendable, or requiring a two-thirds vote, it is good practice to so state.

A question is not before the Association until it has been stated by the President. The President should always stand while presiding, except when someone has the floor for an extended time.

c) Recognition by the President. Following recognition by the President, a member "has the floor" and is entitled to speak or present his business. In accordance with proper rules of procedures, other members should remain seated during his possession of the floor, unless they are entitled to interrupt.

d) Debate. Debate, or discussion, on debatable questions is in order after the question has been stated by the President and after the floor has been obtained.

1. Debate must be limited to the immediately pending question, which is the last question stated by the President. During debate, members should be courteous and should avoid references to others that might be interpreted as personal conflicts. The right to the floor may be refused those members who are not courteous and polite.

2. When it is evident that discussion is drawing to a close, the President may encourage its termination by asking: "Are you ready for the question."

If there is no response, the President puts the question. Such an inquiry does not stop debate since a member may still offer discussion if he so desires. A motion of higher rank may be proposed here or previously at a proper time.

3. If, after asking, "Are you ready for the question?" the President puts the question with such rapidity that members do not have time to claim the floor, they are entitled to do so even after the vote has been announced. If the President gave ample opportunity, however, members cannot claim the right of debate after voting has commenced.

4. The maker of a motion cannot offer discussion against his motion but he is entitled to vote against it.

e) Putting the Question. Immediately prior to putting the question or taking the vote, the President may wish to restate the question by stating: "Those supporting the motion that... say aye. Those opposed say no," "Those in favor of the motion raise your hand. Those opposed raise your hand."

1. After the voting is completed, the President announces the result and effect of the vote. "The ayes have it and the motion is carried. We will..." (state effect of the motion passed).

2. A tap of the gavel should follow the announcement of the results. A vote does not go into effect until the announcement is made. Motions are voted upon in reverse order of their proposal.

f) Vote. The methods of voting are by standing, show of hands, voice, roll call, ballot and general consent.

1. When a voice vote cannot determine which side is majority, the President should immediately use a method which will permit an actual count of members.

2. If a two-thirds vote is required, a show of hands or a rising vote should always be taken.

3. Until a vote is finally announced, a member may change his vote. After the vote is announced, he cannot be change his vote without permission of the Association. This may be done by general consent or by a motion to that effect. A member may not be compelled to vote.

4. When secrecy is desired in voting, a method of voting by ballot should be used. This method may be ordered by a majority vote. Such a motion requires a second and is undebatable.

5. Votes taken on motions conflicting with the Bylaws are null and void.
6. A tie means that a motion is lost, assuming the motion requires a majority vote.
7. The President is entitled to vote when the vote is by ballot and in all other situations when his vote changes the results.

g) Majority, Plurality, and Two-Thirds. More than half the votes cast is a majority vote. Two thirds of the votes cast is a two-thirds vote. When a candidate receives more votes than any other candidate, he has a plurality vote.

h) General Consent. The transaction of business is sometimes expedited by the President requesting that such be approved by "general consent." When this request is made, and there is not objection, approval is granted. If there is an objection, even by just one member, a vote must then be taken to determine the outcome. The President may request action by general consent by stating: "Shall we (state action desired) by general consent?" (If no objection) "We will (state action taken) by general consent."

i) President Leaving Chair. Sometimes the President may desire to leave the chair for the purpose of debating an item of business.

1. When this is done, he should ask the Vice-President, or some other officer if he is absent, to preside for him. This may be done by the President merely stating, "Will the Vice-President please come to the chair and preside?" The President then hands him the gavel.
2. The Vice-President presides for at least as long as is necessary to dispose of the item of business upon which the President debated. As soon as possible after the item is disposed of, he should ask the President to resume his chair.
3. The President should rarely leave the chair and take part in debate. In so doing, particularly on questions where there are strong feelings on both sides, he may lose the confidence of the opposing side. As President, he should be most concerned with presiding in a fair and impartial manner.
4. It is not necessary for the President to leave the chair when providing information for members.

15.4 Classification and Order of Precedence of Motions

a) Rules of Precedence. According to rules of parliamentary procedure, some motions are of a higher rank than others. This rank of importance is called precedence. Two fundamental rules of precedence operate in parliamentary law.

One specifies that when a motion is pending, one may propose a motion of higher precedence but cannot propose a motion of lower precedence. The other rule specifies that motions must be voted upon in reverse order of their proposal.

b) Order of Precedence.

1. Privileged Motions.
 - (a) Adjourn. (unqualified)
 - (b) Orders of the day.

2. Incidental Motions. (These have no rank of order among themselves.)
 - (a) Point of order.
 - (b) Appeal from the decision of the chair.
 - (c) Suspend standing rules.
 - (d) Division of the assembly.
 - (e) Nominations: to make, close, and reopen.
 - (f) Parliamentary inquiry.
 - (g) Leave to withdraw a motion.

3. Subsidiary Motions. (In order of precedence)
 - (a) Lay on the table.
 - (b) Previous questions.
 - (c) Refer to a committee.
 - (d) Amend.

4. Main Motions.
5. Unclassified Motions. Motions which cannot conveniently be classed as either Main, Subsidiary, Incidental or Privileged are;
 - (a) Take from the table.
 - (b) Reconsider.
 - (c) Rescind.

15.5 Descriptions of Motions

a) Main Motions.

1. Purpose is to present an item of business for consideration and action by the Association.

2. Only one main motion may be before the Association at any one time. When a main motion is pending and a subsidiary or an incidental motion arises, it must be disposed of before further consideration is given the main motion. The subsidiary motion may, however, dispose of the main motion.

3. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is required.
- (b) It is always debatable and amendable.
- (c) A majority vote is necessary.
- (d) It may be reconsidered.
- (e) It ranks last in precedence.

b) Lay on the Table. (Subsidiary Motion)

1. Purpose is to temporarily delay action on an item of business. Such a delay may be desired to give members time to consider the proposal further or to consider business of a more urgent nature.
2. When a motion is tabled, all amendments and other motions belonging to it are also tabled.
3. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is required.
 - (b) It is always debatable and amendable.
 - (c) A majority vote is necessary.
 - (d) It may be reconsidered.

c) Previous Questions. (Subsidiary Motion)

1. Purpose is to terminate discussion on the motion or motions before the Association and to secure an immediate vote.
2. If the previous question is called for without qualifications, only the immediately pending question is affected. If it is desired to close debate and vote on all pending questions, such as to refer to a committee and its amendment, then it is necessary to state, "I move the previous question on the motion to refer to its amendment."
3. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is required.
 - (b) It is always debatable and amendable.
 - (c) A two-thirds vote is necessary.
 - (d) It may be reconsidered before the affirmative vote is taken on the pending question, or questions.

d) Refer to a Committee. (Subsidiary Motion)

1. Purpose is to place the question temporarily in a committee.
2. This action may be desired to:
 - (a) Secure more detailed information.
 - (b) Secure a recommendation from a smaller group.

- (c) Ensure privacy when dealing with a delicate matter.
- (d) Allow a more informal discussion of the item of business.
- (e) Give a committee power to act.

3. The member offering the motion to refer to a committee may specify whether it is to go to a standing or special committee. If he specifies a special committee, he may also indicate the number to serve on the committee, how selected, who is to be chairman and special instructions for their operation. Amendments may also be used to bring about these events.

4. An item of business referred to a committee may be withdrawn:

- (a) By reconsidering the vote referring it to a committee, provided the question has not been taken up by the committee.
- (b) If the question has been taken up, by discharging the committee. A motion should be offered to discharge the committee. This motion requires a second and is debatable.

5. To discharge the committee requires a two-thirds vote. A motion is then necessary to get the business back before the Association after a committee has been discharged.

6. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is required.
- (b) It is always debatable and amendable.
- (c) A majority vote is required.
- (d) It may be reconsidered before the committee takes up the question.

e) Amend. (Subsidiary Motion)

1. Purpose is to modify the motion that is under consideration.

2. Amendments are of two kinds, first rank and second rank. An amendment applying to an original motion is of the first rank and an amendment to an amendment is of the second rank. There can be only one amendment of each rank under consideration at a time but as soon as one is voted upon, another of the same rank may be proposed.

3. An amendment, either first or second rank, may be made by striking out, inserting or adding, or by striking out and inserting words.

4. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is required.
- (b) It is debatable when the motion to which it applies is debatable.
- (c) It may be amended by an amendment of the second rank.
- (d) An amendment to an amendment (one of the second rank) cannot be amended.
- (e) A majority vote is required.
- (f) It may be reconsidered.

f) Point of Order. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to enforce the rules by calling attention to a violation of the rules or a mistake in procedure.
2. The President is duty bound to enforce correct rules of procedure. He should, therefore, call members out of order when they are in error. Members may also insist upon correct procedure of business by rising to a point of order when the need arises. The point of order must be made at that time the breach of order occurs. Exceptions to this would be in situations where the motion was in violation of the constitution, standing rules, or of fundamental parliamentary procedure, so that, if adopted, it would be null and void. In these situations it is never too late to rise to a point of order.
3. If a member rises to a point of order and does not agree with the decision rendered, he may appeal from the decision.
4. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) It does not require a second.
 - (b) It is debatable and unamendable.
 - (c) Recognition is not necessary.
 - (d) A vote is not required unless referred to the Association for their decision, at which time a majority vote is necessary.
 - (e) It may not be reconsidered.
 - (f) It may interrupt a speaker.

g) Appeal from the Decision of the Chair. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to obtain a decision from the Association to a question on which the President has made a decision.
2. A decision is usually made in connection with terms of business concerning the welfare of the entire Association, such as the President "deciding" the Association will sponsor a banquet, or "deciding" on a point of order.

3. An announcement of a vote and an answer to a parliamentary inquiry are not decisions of the chair, and therefore cannot be appealed from.
4. An appeal must be made at the time the ruling is made and before any debate or business has intervened, otherwise it is too late.
5. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is required.
 - (b) It is debatable except in cases where it relates to indecorum (improper conduct) priority of business, or deviation from the rules of speaking.
 - (c) It cannot be amended.
 - (d) A majority vote or tie vote sustains the chair.
 - (e) It can be reconsidered.

h) Suspend Standing Rules. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to permit the Association to do something that cannot be done without violating its standing rules.
2. Standing rules are those rules that are adopted in a meeting without the need of giving previous notice. A majority vote is required.
3. The motion to suspend standing rules may be offered prior to the item of business to which it pertains or it may be offered while the question is pending. For example, if it is desired to introduce an item of business which would be in violation of a standing rule, the rule may first be suspended, then the item of business introduced. It is also proper to first introduce the item of business and when it is opened for discussion, one may then move to suspend the rule involved and when this is passed, proceed with the disposal of the main motion.
4. The suspension of a rule is in effect only for the reason for which it was suspended. Following the action taken under suspension, the original rule is again in effect.
5. General consent is frequently used in situations where standing rules need to be suspended.
6. It is not in order to suspend rules relating to a constitution and bylaws. Neither is it in order to suspend rules dealing with fundamental principles of parliamentary law.
7. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is required.
 - (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.

- (c) A majority vote is required. (A two-thirds vote is required to suspend an order of business that has been adopted.)
- (d) It cannot be reconsidered.

i) Division of the Assembly. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to determine the accuracy of a vote, especially when taken by voice or by show of hands.
2. If a member feels that a voice vote, or one taken by a show of hands, is not accurate, he may request verification of the vote by calling for a division of the assembly. This must be done before another motion has been stated and may be requested even if another member has the floor.
3. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is not required.
 - (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
 - (c) A vote is not required to order a standing vote.
 - (d) Recognition is not necessary.
 - (e) It can interrupt a speaker.
 - (f) It cannot be reconsidered.

j) Nominations and Elections. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to present to the Association the name of a candidate for a certain office or position.
2. Nominations may be made by a committee or from the floor by a member. Even when a nominating committee is used, nominations may be made by members when the floor is open for further nominations.
3. To offer a nomination, after the floor is open for such, a member obtains the floor and states, "I nominate... for..." The President then asks for further nominations. If there are none, nominations are closed and the vote taken. Candidates are voted upon in order in when they were nominated.
4. Closing Nominations - Nominations may be closed by a two-thirds vote or by general consent. The motion to close nominations requires a second, is undebatable, and can be amended as to time only.
5. Pertinent Facts.
 - (a) A second is not required to nominate.
 - (b) A majority vote is required to elect.

k) Parliamentary Inquiry. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to permit a member to gain parliamentary information. Information desired may pertain to the procedure for introducing business, rules governing a motion, action to take concerning a pending question, what motion to use, or effect of a motion.

2. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
- (c) A vote is not required.
- (d) It cannot be reconsidered.
- (e) Recognition is not necessary.
- (f) It may interrupt a speaker.

l) Leave to Withdraw a Motion. (Incidental Motion)

1. Purpose is to permit the withdrawal of a motion from consideration by the Association.

2. The proposer of a motion may withdraw or modify his motion without the consent of anyone before it is stated by the chair. If he modifies it, the seconder may withdraw his second if he so desires.

3. After a motion has been stated by the President, it belongs to the Association and cannot be withdrawn without its consent. This may be granted by general consent. If there is an objection, however, a vote must be taken.

4. Pertinent Facts. (After having been stated by the President)

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
- (c) A majority vote is required.
- (d) It cannot be withdrawn after voting has commenced.
- (e) The affirmative vote cannot be reconsidered but the negative vote may.

m) Adjourn. (Privileged Motion)

1. Purpose is to terminate (close) the meeting.

2. The motion to adjourn is a privileged motion when unqualified but if it is qualified, it loses its privilege and becomes a main motion.

3. A motion to adjourn is unqualified when the proposer merely states, "I move that we adjourn." It becomes qualified when he adds something such as, "I move that we adjourn in fifteen minutes."

4. Pertinent Facts. (When unqualified)

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
- (c) A majority vote is required.
- (d) It cannot be reconsidered.
- (e) The cannot be made while the Association is voting or verifying the vote unless the vote is by ballot.

n) Call for Orders of the Day. (Privileged Motion)

1. Purpose is to demand that the Association conform to its order of business or program.

2. A call for orders of the day can be made only when the order of business is being varied from and when no other privileged motion is pending. It is out of order to call for orders of the day when there is no variation from the order of business. No subsidiary motion may be applied to a call for orders of the day.

3. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
- (c) A two-thirds negative vote is required to not return to the regular orders.
- (d) It cannot be reconsidered.

o) Take from the Table. (Unclassified Motion)

1. Purpose is to again bring a question before the Association for further consideration.

2. A motion cannot be taken from the table until some business has been transacted since it was tabled. When taken from the table, the motion is in exactly the same condition as when tabled.

3. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is undebatable and unamendable.
- (c) A majority vote is required.
- (d) It cannot be reconsidered.

p) Reconsider. (Unclassified Motion)

1. Purpose is to permit the reconsidering of a vote previously taken on a motion and to again reconsider the question.

2. A motion to reconsider must be made by a member who voted on the prevailing side, unless the vote was by ballot. It is also necessary to offer the motion on the day the vote was taken or on the next calendar day.

3. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is debatable if the question to be reconsidered is debatable.
- (c) It is unamendable.
- (d) A majority vote is required.
- (e) It cannot be reconsidered.

q) Rescind. (Unclassified Motion)

1. Purpose is to cancel action taken by the Association.

2. Any action, except action that cannot be reversed, may be rescinded by the Association. The motion to rescind is a main motion and can be made by any member when no motion is pending. It is debatable and opens the main question to debate if the main question is debatable.

3. Pertinent Facts.

- (a) A second is not required.
- (b) It is debatable and amendable.
- (c) A majority vote is required if previous notice of the proposed action was given, otherwise a two-thirds vote is required.
- (d) It cannot be applied to action that cannot be reversed.
- (e) Only the negative vote can be reconsidered.

15.6 Miscellaneous

a) Adopting An Order of Business.

1. An order of business will be established and the following items will be included in an inclusive order of business:

- (a) Opening ceremony.
- (b) Secretary's Report.
- (c) Chief Financial Officer's Report.
- (d) Director's Reports.
- (e) Committee Reports.
- (f) Old Business.
- (g) New Business.
- (h) Closing ceremony.

2. If it is desired to transact business out of its order, when an order of business has been adopted, it is necessary to suspend the rules, which requires a two-thirds vote.

b) Committees.

1. Committees are usually either classed as "standing" or "special."
2. The chairman of a committee is usually responsible for calling committee meetings but such may be called by any two of its members.
3. The rules for conducting business in committees differ somewhat from those of conducting business in an association meeting, unless the committee is a very large one. For example, it is not necessary for one to rise and address the chair before making a motion or speaking. The chairman does not rise to put the question or leave the chair to speak or make motions. In committee meetings, it is not necessary to second motions.

c) Committee Reports.

1. When committees have been charged with the responsibility of investigating or reporting upon a matter, their report should close with a formal resolution pertaining to all their recommendations. The Association may then adopt or reject their recommendation.
2. If a report contains only information for the Association members, there is no necessity for adopting the report. If this passes, the Association has then assumed responsibility for the committee report.
3. A copy of each committee report should be filed with the Secretary.

d) Chief Financial Officer's Report.

1. A financial report from the Chief Financial Officer is not acted upon by the Association. Such a report is for information only since it will later be checked by an audit committee, which will make a report upon which the Association must act. For this reason, the Chief Financial Officer's report should never be accepted by the Association.
2. Following a report from the Chief Financial Officer, the President should remark that it is for the information of members and will be referred to the auditing committee. A copy of the report should be filed with the auditing committee and with the Secretary for his information.

e) Minutes of Meetings.

1. The reading of the minutes is usually requested by the President stated: "We will now have the minutes of the previous meeting."
2. After the Secretary has read the minutes, the President may remark: "Are there any corrections or additions to the minutes? (Pause) If not, they stand approved as read." (One tap of the gavel follows.)
3. Following the approval of the minutes, they should be signed by the President. It is proper for the Secretary to take the minutes to the President's station for this signing.
4. Minutes may be corrected at any time without reconsidering the vote approving them. They may also be corrected whenever the error is noticed regardless of the time, which has elapsed.
5. Corrections are usually made informally by the chair directing the correction to be made. If an objection is made, a formal motion in the form of an amendment may be offered and voted upon by the Association.
6. Minutes of the meeting shall be reviewed by legal counsel and approved as to form and sufficiency before becoming final

STATEMENT OF INVESTMENT POLICY

Introduction

This statement of investment policy provides guidelines for investing the funds held by the Airborne Public Safety Association (APSA).

APSA is a 501(c)(6) tax exempt corporation founded in 2016 to support, promote and advance the safe and effective utilization of aircraft by governmental agencies in support of public safety missions through training, networking, advocacy and consulting and accreditation programs. Its vision is the safe and successful completion of each airborne public safety operation.

Services include, but are not limited to, an annual conference and exposition, training and education programs, the promotion of industry standards and accreditation, and numerous print and electronic publications. All funds are derived from the sale of these and other products and services and from membership dues.

The following fund categories have been identified for the purposes of this policy statement: the General Operating Fund; the Short Term Reserve Fund; the Reserve Fund, and the Building Fund.

General Operating Fund

Purpose: To provide sufficient cash to meet the financial obligations of the Association in a timely manner.

Investment Objective: Preservation of capital and liquidity.

Allowable Investments: FDIC or SIPC insured accounts, money market funds, and U.S. Government or agency obligations maturing in less than one year.

Goal: It is anticipated that a reserve equal to 1.5 month's operating expenses (currently estimated at $225,000) is sufficient to match incoming cash flows with expenses on a day-to-day basis. This reserve will be maintained in a least one bank checking account and one bank savings/money market account. The amount of reserves necessary to meet the cash flow demands will be reviewed at least annually. Income generated from this portfolio will be reinvested in this Fund in an amount which is necessary to maintain 1.5 month's estimated operating expenses. Excess income earned may be added to the Short Term Reserve Fund, the Reserve Fund or Building Fund, on an ad hoc basis and as determined by the Executive Director/CEO and Treasurer.

Short Term Reserve Fund

Purpose: To maintain a fund for excess income earned by the General Operating Fund and the Reserve Fund to be used in the annual budgeting process to enhance member services by covering any shortfall in annual income from association activities, meet unanticipated and unbudgeted expenses, new programs and incentives as decided by the Board, and for non-building related capital expenditures.

Investment Objective: Provide Income, preservation of capital, and liquidity with a time frame of one to two years.

Allowable Investments: FDIC or SIPC insured accounts, money market funds, and U.S. Government or agency obligations maturing in less than one year.

Goal: In January of each year, the funds in this account will be included as income in the annual budget to be used to enhance member services by covering any shortfall in annual income from association activities, meet unanticipated and unbudgeted expenses, new programs and incentives, and for non-building related capital expenditures. Income generated from this portfolio will be reinvested in this Fund. Any year-end undistributed funds from this Fund will remain in this fund and included in the next year's budget.

Long Term Reserve Fund

Purpose: To invest money expected to be held longer than five years in such a manner as to enhance the purchasing power of the money and to provide financial stability to the Association.

Investment Objective: To achieve a real rate of return of five percent above inflation over a three- to five-year time frame. Funds should be invested to minimize volatility over trailing twelve-month periods.

Allowable Investments: Money market funds, certificates of deposit, U.S. Government and agency obligations, stocks, A- or higher rated corporate bonds, and mutual funds. Exposure to stocks should be limited to 30 percent with the remainder of the portfolio invested in bonds, bond funds, and cash.

Goal: A stock and bond, and/or mutual funds portfolio with no more than 30 percent in stocks and the remaining monies in bonds and cash. All income and dividends earned from this portfolio will be reinvested in this Fund.

Maintain a balance equal to 24 month's operating expenses (currently estimated at $3.2 million) to cover any unanticipated or unbudgeted decrease in income or increase in expenditures. Income generated from this portfolio will be reinvested in this Fund in an amount which is necessary to maintain 24 month's operating expenses. Excess income earned will be divided each January as follows: seventy-five percent (75%) shall be added to the Short Term Reserve Fund and twenty-five percent (25%) shall be added to the Building Fund.

General Note: It is intended for this Fund to represent a balanced and diversified portfolio(s) that contains appropriate allocations of assets and representation of sectors.

Building Fund

Purpose: To provide funding to meet the building repair and capital improvement needs of the Association, for the expansion of current Association offices and/or the purchase/construction of a larger office space.

Investment Objective: Income, preservation of capital, and liquidity with a time frame of five to ten years.

Allowable Investments: Money market funds, certificates of deposit, U.S. Government and agency obligations, and A- or higher rated corporate bonds, with no more than intermediate durations. Mutual funds consisting of bonds listed above and with short or intermediate durations are also permitted.

Goal: APSA currently owns its own office condominium. Although there is ample space for at least the near term (3-7 years), it is likely that the Association will outgrow this space within the next 10 years. In preparation, since this is a short to medium term, unrestricted fund (it is anticipated that the assets in this fund may be utilized for its stated purpose, in whole or in part, within the next ten years), APSA will commit twenty-five (25%) of the excess income earned annually by the Long Term Reserve Fund to this Fund. All income and dividends earned from this portfolio will be reinvested in this Fund. There are no dollar limits in this fund.

APPENDIX “E”

PRIORITY GUIDELINES

INTRODUCTION:

The following priorities have been adopted to assist the Board in governing the Association and to establish priorities by which staff activities will be conducted.

There is a broad range of priorities that must be recognized in governing the Association and these have been grouped into four categories. Notwithstanding the broad range of priorities that must be recognized, safety is the paramount goal of the Association.

The first two categories list action or working priorities, namely:

1. To maintain the health of the Association as a first priority; and
2. To provide membership services as the second priority.

The third and fourth categories identify policy and planning priorities, namely;

1. To identify principles and policies by which the activities of the Association will be governed as a third priority; and,
2. To identify strategic (future) objectives and plans as a fourth priority. A plan or objective, once established and approved by the Board, would become a working priority and transferred under either Category One or Two for implementation by the APSA staff.

In summary, there are four categories of priorities. These are identified in order of priority and discussed as follows. The four categories are not expected to change. Specific priorities (and their order of priority) can be changed.

CATEGORY ONE:

Health of the Association:

The first priority of the Board is to maintain and insure the health of the Association. This priority will never change. Specific responsibilities in order of priority are as follows:

1. Maintain effective, efficient management and staff.
2. Maintain financial solvency with conservative financial management.
3. Develop strong financial reserves and equity. The goal for the Reserve Fund should be established with a minimum of 150 percent of the current APSA annual operating budget and a maximum not to exceed 200 percent of said operating budget. Any accumulation in the Reserve Fund beyond 200 percent of said operating budget shall be invested as follows: 75% moved to the Short Term Reserve Fund to enhance the level of membership services and 25% to the Building Fund.
4. Membership recruitment.
5. Develop revenue producing programs.
6. Maintain the Association as public aircraft operator's organization and as a forum for the entire industry.

CATEGORY TWO:

Membership Services:

The second priority of the Board is membership services and functions, with the following order of priority:

1. The Annual Conference and Exposition.
2. Specific information/communication services:
 - a) Internet Homepage.
 - b) Publications – Air Beat, Monthly E-Newsletter, Safety Wire.
 - c) Other information services.
3. Six (6) Regional Safety Seminars.

4. Monitor the causes and frequency of public safety aviation accidents/incidents and implement appropriate programs to improve safety.
5. Represent the industry and membership in regulatory matters and maintain a continuous vigilance and concerted response to regulatory processes.
6. Monitor legislative process, and work to influence industry desired outcomes.
7. Represent the industry and membership at professional meetings, conferences, seminars, and events of defined organizations as necessary to achieve the goals of the Association.
8. Provide technical assistance through subject matter experts.

Note: Every element of these activities and services should be re-examined on a regular basis but no less than annually and services judged either ineffective or providing marginal membership benefits must be discontinued as a matter of policy.

CATEGORY THREE:

Principles and Policies:

The third priority of the Board is the ongoing "principles and policies" of the Association (which are not necessarily subordinate to other priorities listed above) in the following order:

1. Safety, in the air and on the ground, is paramount in all aspects of public safety aircraft operations, including operations and maintenance.
2. Promotion of the use of aircraft as an integral part of the delivery of effective and efficient public safety services.
3. Promotion of high standards of professional and ethical conduct.
4. Promotion of good public relations between the community and the public safety aviation industry.
5. Recognition of meritorious performance and outstanding services within the membership through an awards program.

CATEGORY FOUR:

Strategic Plans and Objectives:

The fourth priority of the Board is strategic or future plans and objectives. The objective of strategic planning is to achieve future benefits for the membership, APSA and the industry resulting in benefits to the public.

Strategic planning must always take into consideration present and future conditions the membership and the industry are facing, for example:

1. Continued modest growth in the market.
2. The high costs of obtaining and operating manned aircraft in a public safety configuration.
3. The necessity to expand into new markets.
4. Public perception of the use of aircraft in some fields of public safety aviation .
5. Governmental regulation that limit the type of aircraft used in our missions.

It is the responsibility of the Board to develop strategic priorities and objectives. Suggestions for these priorities and objectives are welcome from many sources, including staff. Once adopted, the plan or objectives would be assigned a working priority and transferred to Category One or Two for implementation by the APSA staff.

Strategic priorities are as follows:

1. Providing training and educational opportunities for members.
2. Providing networking opportunities for members.
3. Providing vehicles for information exchange between members.
4. Building and maintaining a strong presence with aviation and related public safety organizations, positioning APSA as the leader in public safety aviation.
5. Monitor and maintain awareness of the state of public safety aviation and disseminate that information to the benefit of the industry.
