

PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

MedForce Joins Metro Family

26 AUG 2020 – Shreveport, La. –

MedForce Aeromedical Transport is the newest air medical service to join the Metro Family. Founded in 2000, the Quad City helicopter emergency service has provided transport in and around Eastern Iowa, West-Central Illinois, and portions of Northeast Missouri. Metro Aviation will provide aviation services for the program's two bases located in Colona, Illinois and West Burlington, Iowa.

"We chose Metro Aviation as our aviation services provider because they are dedicated to safety, innovative and accessible," said MedForce CEO Kevin Takacs. "We are excited for the future and look forward to a strong partnership with Metro."

MedForce recently took delivery of a new Airbus H135 and EC135, completed by Metro at its Shreveport, Louisiana facility. A second H135 will be delivered in September 2020.

"MedForce is committed to patient care, safety, and technology," said Metro COO Kenny Morrow. "Metro shares those priorities and we are excited for this new partnership."
