

MD Helicopters Expands Flexible Financing Options for Customers

New Service Addresses Key Customer Need

Mesa, Ariz., April 13, 2021 – As part of the company’s renewed focus on strengthening customer support, MD Helicopters, Inc. (MDHI) will be working with National Bank of Arizona to provide qualified customers with expanded aircraft finance and lease options, subject to credit approval. The financing options offered through the new relationship with National Bank of Arizona allows MDHI to continue to improve and expand customer services and overall customer experience and satisfaction.

“Today’s economic environment is affecting customers across the industry from utility operators to law enforcement, pushing them to find new financing avenues,” says Jason Lindauer, Director of Commercial Sales. “Our new leadership is committed to strengthening our customer support by directly addressing our customers’ needs. We’ve worked to create this relationship with National Bank of Arizona in direct response to those needs in an effort to help our customers upgrade and build their fleets.”

MDHI’s already flexible options, designed to support a variety of finance scenarios, will expand further with this new relationship. Qualified customers will hopefully now have access to more of a variety of lease and financing options with more competitive terms.

Qualified commercial and public service customers can access these new options with the National Bank of Arizona or one of its many affiliates in the United States. MDHI sales teams are committed to helping customers identify the best financing options for their budgets and supporting those customers through this journey to hopefully secure the right solution.

To learn more about MDHI’s finance and lease options, contact Jason Lindauer at 480-353-6587 or Jason.Lindauer@MDHelicopters.com.
