

Dallas Airmotive Expands East Coast Rotorcraft Sales Team

Adds regional sales manager to deliver personalized service and support to East Coast customers

March 1, 2016

DALLAS -- Dallas Airmotive, a BBA Aviation Global Engine Services company, announced today that industry veteran Gregory Parsons has joined the company as the Regional Rotorcraft Sales Manager for the East Coast. In this role, he will provide technical and sales support for Dallas Airmotive's rotorcraft customers in his region.

"We are excited to have Greg as a member of our U.S. rotorcraft sales team. He brings a tremendous amount of knowledge to the team and more than 35 years of experience in the rotorcraft industry," said Mark Stubbs, Chief Commercial Officer, Dallas Airmotive and H+S Aviation.

Prior to his position with Dallas Airmotive, Parsons spent 10 years with U.S. Helicopters as the Director of Maintenance and over 18 years with Standard Aero as the Service Center Manager in North Carolina. Stubbs explained that Parsons' broad experience will be a benefit for customers on the East Coast. "Greg has a history of hands-on experience with helicopters and he knows the business from the customer's perspective. He will be a great technical and mechanical resource for our customers to ensure that they receive the high level of service and support that they expect and need from Dallas Airmotive," he said.

Parsons has an extensive history in the aviation industry that began in the U.S. Marine Corps and continued with two years as a UH-1H Crew Chief in the Kentucky Army Air National Guard. He is an Airframe & Power plant mechanic with Inspection Authorization, and has received specialized training from Airbus, Bell, and Rolls-Royce.
