

News release

For immediate release / March, 2017

Night Flight Concepts provides Initial NVG training to Whirly-Girl Scholarship Winner

Night flight Concepts was proud to offer to Whirly-Girls International an NVG Initial training course scholarship for 2017. After many submissions, the association, selected Sarah Snell, a AS350B3 and fixed wing pilot for Air Kenya Express Ltd. The announcement was made during the HELI-EXPO in Dallas this month by the President of the Association, presenting the Sponsor of Merit award to our Vice President, Dave Luke.

Ms. Snell started her training on March 13th and completed on March 15th. Her training consisted of 8 hours of ground training and 6 hours of flight training in our Police version Robinson R-66.

Our NVG Initial Qualification Course consists of academic and flight training curriculum for pilots to operate in a safe and efficient manner while utilizing NVGs. Training was conducted in accordance with standards and guidelines as set forth by the FAA under part 141.

Sarah was very excited and well prepared to receive this training and she excelled passing all the ground and flight requirements. After completing the training, she filled out our student survey and made the following statement.

“This course was very comprehensive and Glenn was one of the best instructors I have ever experienced. Thanks again and I look forward to working with you in the future”

Night Flight Concepts prides its self on providing the best NVG training in the industry and ensuring our customers are always number one. We look forward providing another scholarship to the Whirly-Girls for 2018.

END