COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Dallas Avionics is excited to offer an operator class on the Technisonic TDFM 9000 + 9300 radio systems. The class is designed to help the end user with radio and options available to the aircrews. The class will cover many of the different settings that can be used to expand the aircrew ability to communicate quickly and effectively. The class will discuss scanning features, saving channels quickly, crossband repeating, simulcasting and radio settings different from the portable Motorola radios. The class will cover some code plug information along with a question-and-answer period.

Maximum enrollment: 50
