Able Aerospace continues support for Airbus Helicopters with contract renewal

Able Aerospace Services, Inc. announced that Airbus Helicopters has renewed its service center agreement for an additional three years. Able has been an authorized Airbus Service Center for more than a decade providing dynamic component repair and overhaul services for multiple Airbus Helicopters platforms including AS350, AS365, SA366, H120, H130, H135, H155, BK117, H145 and BO105.

Able Aerospace Services is a subsidiary of Textron Aviation Inc., a Textron Inc. (NYSE:TXT) company.

“At Able Aerospace, we are committed to providing our customers with innovative maintenance, repair and overhaul solutions while providing the highest level of quality and customer service,” said Travis Tyler, vice president and general manager. “We are proud to continue our decade-long partnership with Airbus Helicopters.”

Operating from a 250,000 square foot, state-of-the-art facility headquartered in Mesa, Arizona, Able Aerospace offers more than 10,000 FAA-approved repairs and overhauls and has one of the world’s largest rotatable exchange inventories.
